THE Directors of the Post-Graduate Hospital and Babies' Wards, in presenting their Annual Report, inform their friends and the public that more patients have been under their care than in any year since the establishment of these Institutions. 842 house patients have been treated; of these 286 were babies and 556 adults. 13,007 patients have been treated in the Dispensary, where 43,791 visits have been made. The District Physician of the Dispensary, Dr. J. C. Smith, has attended 413 patients at their homes.

The Directors earnestly appeal to the people of New York in behalf of this great charity. Babies, children, women and men here receive skilled medical and surgical care, and a large class of practitioners of medicine, by watching the details of this treatment, are made much more competent for their work.

Seven years ago the Directors of the New York Post-Graduate Hospital, assisted by several charitable ladies, established a Babies' Ward. This Institution, the first in the city of New York to provide especial care, by themselves, for infants, is now enlarged to such an extent that the whole house adjacent to the Post-Graduate Hospital is used for its purposes. Many of the beds in the Babies' Wards are endowed; if this were done for all of them, much more good would be accomplished.

The Auxiliary Committee appointed by the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, whose names are found on page 3 of this Report, have rendered invaluable assistance to the Directors during the year.*

The Babies' Wards have again been much improved by changes in the "Sunbeam Ward," at the top of the building.

*The Auxiliary Committee of the Board of Directors will publish a detailed account of the work of the Babies' Wards, similar to the one issued last winter, at a later date.

A fund of $1,800, towards the establishment of a new building, was raised during the last summer, from an exhibition of tableaux, at Newport, besides other work, which is noted in the Treasurer's Report.

The work of these wards is conducted on a broad basis, having a three-fold object:

FIRST—The proper Medical and Surgical care of the little waifs who are sent from all parts of the city for treatment. Among the many hospitals and charities of New York, there has been almost no provision made for the care of sick and needy infants. The general hospitals decline to receive them, and many lives are sacrificed because poor women in tenement houses are so frequently unable to give their infants suitable nourishment and medical treatment during illness. The Wards were kept open throughout the whole of the past summer, and during July and August a number of infants were sent to the "Convalescent Home," at Summit, N. J. Tickets of admission were distributed among the summer corps of physicians of the Board of Health and of the Childrens' Aid Society. This has involved a large outlay on the part of the Hospital, but it is believed that much good was thereby accomplished. No cases, except contagious diseases, are refused, save for want of room. Admission can be had at any hour of the day or night.

SECOND—The Wards are utilized for the higher education of physicians in this important and neglected branch. During the past year between four and five hundred physicians, from all parts of the United States and Canada, have taken Courses at the New York Post-Graduate Medical School; they have been here enabled to watch all the phases of infantile disease, and learn the newest methods of treatment. These Wards are thus helping to treat sick infants in many sparsely settled regions of the South and West.

THIRD—The nurses from the Post-Graduate Training School are given special training in the care of sick infants which will enable them to do useful service in this special branch after graduation.

Particular attention is called to the Orthopædic Ward for Children. Perhaps the effect of surgical treatment and good nursing are never better seen than in such a ward as this. This is under the care of Professor A. M. Phelps, and it forms one of the most pleasing charities in the city; deformed and helpless children are relieved of suffering, improved in appearance and made able to make their way in life. The ward was formerly occupied by the Babies' Ward, but it has been specially fitted up as a children's Orthopædic Ward. It is a large and sunny room, where the little sufferers receive the best of care. Miss Ellen Brown, Miss L. Waydell, Miss J. Earle, Miss Fountain, Miss Shearer, Mrs. Hallock, Miss Mott, Miss Lewis, Miss M. Earle, Mrs. Cannon, Miss J. E. Larremore, Miss Morrison, Miss M. Bennett and Miss Livingston, of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, have acted as an influential Auxiliary Committee to the Orthopædic Ward. They have raised considerable sums of money, and have rendered invaluable service by their visits and attendance to the wants of the little children of this interesting Ward.

The Woman's Ward is also one worthy of special consideration; the most serious surgical operations are here performed by eminent surgeons. Facilities for treating poor women in the city of New York, for serious surgical diseases, are still very limited; much more ought to be done than is done. We have but one endowed bed in the Woman's Ward; we ought to have many more, for many of our patients are not even able to pay the small sum necessary for their board, which is fixed at a nominal price. The Directors repeat their urgent desire to endow every bed in their Hospital, so that none but actually poor people may be treated here. It may be convenient for people with limited means to be treated in a hospital, but the most deserving class are really those who have nothing, who cannot even pay the cost of feeding them, who are literally in the highways and hedges of life.

Through the generosity of Mrs. C. P. Huntington, the directors have just added a Lying-In service, at No. 543 East 13th Street, to the other facilities of the Hospital, under the charge of Professor von Ramdohr, where poor women can be cared for in their homes without charge.

Two hundred dollars ($200) will endow a bed in the Babies' Ward for a year. Three thousand dollars ($3,000), one in perpetuity. Three hundred dollars ($300) will endow a bed in the Woman's Ward for a year, or in any other ward in the Hospital, and three thousand dollars ($3,000), one in perpetuity.

The directors find their buildings so inadequate for their rapidly increasing work, that if sufficient encouragement be given, they intend to greatly improve and enlarge their facilities at a very early date, and they earnestly appeal to the citizens of New York for aid to carry on their Hospital in a proper manner.
